

About the Author

Nigel Cooper studied screenwriting in London, where he learned the art of creative writing for film and television. In 2004 he founded and edited a specialist British TV/broadcast magazine, which he sold in November 2011 to pursue a career as an author of fiction. He currently lives and writes in Cambridgeshire, UK.

Email From A Vampire by Nigel Cooper

Word count: 86,243

eBook/Kindle price: £2.99 / $4.99

Paperback price: £7.99 / $13.25

Available from Amazon.co.uk, Amazon.com

ISBN (paperback): 978-0-9573307-0-2

ASIN (kindle): B008PIDXNA

Contact details:

Email: nigel@nigelcooperauthor.co.uk

Website: www.nigelcooperauthor.co.uk

Email From A Vampire

by

Nigel Cooper

Dark, stylish, romantic and sexy, Email From A Vampire will do for London what True Blood did for Louisiana.

Love, desire and a trail of cold-blooded murders

Tania de Pré is an ordinary journalist looking for her next big story. But when she receives an email from the mysterious, erudite and deeply sensual Tristan Syhier Burnel – a man alleging himself to be a thousand-year old vampire who wants her to publish his life story – she is plunged into a world of murder, intrigue and overwhelming sexual desire.

Teaming up with DI Maldini and his CSI team, Tania and Tristan find themselves on the trail of a malevolent bloodsucker, who will stop at nothing to ensure that the secrets of vampirism remain underground ...

EMAIL FROM A VAMPIRE is the gripping new dark vampire romance crime thriller that will leave you breathless!

Review extracts:

“Cooper has come up with a cracking debut novel that fuses crime/mystery with dark vampire romance very nicely.”

“Written beautifully, maintaining pace throughout, leaving the reader wanting from one chapter to the next.”

“The most original vampire novel since Interview With The Vampire – a superb debut novel by British author Nigel Cooper.”